DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-27, 51, 70, 92, 116 and 137 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-27, 51, 70, 92, 116 and 137 provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting over claims 1-24 of copending Application No. 09/775532. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented.
4. The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the referenced copending application and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending application since the referenced copending application and the instant application are claiming common subject matter, as follows:

- a. an access control facility accessible via a global data processing network and configured to maintain user information, and to permit or deny a user to enter an access controlled environment within a data processing environment and to perform user operations within the access controlled environment;
- b. a transaction management facility, operable within the access controlled environment, coupled to the access control facility, and configured to store and maintain transaction data based on the transaction, the user operations, and a security scheme;
- c. an authentication facility operable within the access controlled environment and configured to authenticate the transaction data based on an authentication scheme corresponding to the transaction

5. This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 1-27, 51, 70, 92, 116 and 137 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by O' Neal et al (U.S. PG Pub No. 2004/0062370).

8. As per claim 1, O'Neal et al a system for facilitating processing and disposition of a transaction within an access controlled environment, comprising:
an access control facility accessible via a global data processing network and configured to maintain user information, and to permit or deny a user to enter an access controlled environment within a data processing environment and to perform user operations within the access controlled environment; a transaction management facility operable within the access controlled environment, coupled to the access control facility, and configured to store and maintain transaction data based on the transaction, the user operations, and a security scheme;
an authentication facility operable within the access controlled environment and configured to authenticate the transaction data based on an authentication scheme corresponding to the transaction; and a billing facility configured to consolidate data related to internal operations performed by the access control facility, the transaction management facility, and the authentication facility to generate and process billing data and to send a billing notice to a responsible party via the global data processing network (see figs 1, 2, 3, 4, pps 0045, 00464, 0047, 0065-0066, 0073, 0079-0082, 0086).

9. As per claims 2-27, 51, 70, 92, 116 and 137, their limitations do not further limit the scope of the invention. Moreover, their limitations are fully taught in O'Neal et al disclosure. Therefore, they are rejected under the same rationale as claim 1.

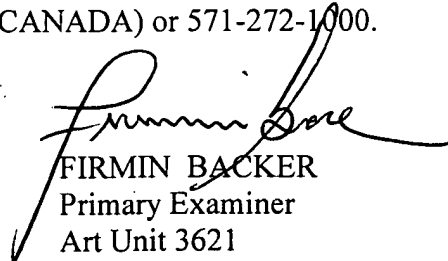

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. (see form 892).
